The Children's Cancer Center (CCCL) session at the London Global Cancer Week from (14 – 18 November 2022:

"One cancer different Journeys"

Date of the session: November 18 at 7:30 – 9:00 AM (GMT) - 9:30 – 11:00 AM (Beirut time)

Introduction:

As part of its advocate role, and raising awareness of the Work CCCL is doing locally and globally, the Children's Cancer Centre of Lebanon (CCCL). is organizing its second session at the London Global cancer week on Friday, November 18, 2022 at 7:30 am BMT and for 1.5 hours. The session will have the title of One Cancer different journeys. "

As part of our commitment in making a positive change in society, the CCCL UK Ltd is organizing a one-and a half hour virtual session to spread more awareness about childhood and young adolescent cancer throughout the entire journey. We aim to participate in educating the community about pediatric and youth cancer and the work that our charity does in Lebanon and globally, as part of the international cancer community and patients group.

2 countries, 1 cancer may have 2 different journeys but 1 pain. The session will aim, not to compare negatively, but to learn and improve where there is lack of services and support.

This session is for:

- NGOs;
- Health care professionals and philanthropist;
- Childhood cancer patients and survivors;
- parents
- international bodies representatives;
- Influencers;
- Students
- Advocate for cancer control
- Governmental institutions

The panelists will Discuss Journey with cancer (pain, support received or lack of it, effect of cancer on patients' siblings and caregivers, their current engagements with cancer community in their respective countries, and messages to the world leaders).

Moderated by Mrs. Georgette Aoude; CCCL Marketing and communication department Manager, The session's program will allow the interaction of audiences with speakers, psychologists, survivors and parents.
